Layesha Walton via LIVE Broadcast*

Are you a Dance Ministry Director/Coordinator/Leader?

- * Do you need direction for your ministry or wisdom in your leadership role?
- * Are you a worship arts conference/workshop host in need of direction?
- * Do the dancers in your ministry need to grow, develop and be challenged to grow as disciples?
- * Do you need clarity and purpose for your dance/mime ministry?

Are you married and serving alongside your husband in ministry? Are you planning to serve in worship arts ministry with your spouse?

Minister Layesha has served alongside her husband Randol Walton, while planning, preparing and hosting the national worship arts conference, Music & Dance Unto the Lord for 15 years. Next year, they will celebrate 16 years of ministry together and 15 years of wedded bliss! Through this experience she has plenty of insight on ups, downs, ins, outs, and ultimately how to love your spouse the way God intends while accomplishing dreams, goals and visions together.

Do you desire encouragement to help you reach a dream, goal or vision that's pressing? Do you need accountability?

If you have any dreams, goals and/or visions you need help with, or you need a spiritual mid-wife who can help you pray, press, and push until you give birth to your vision this mentoring opportunity is for you! Everyone needs to be encouraged especially when trying to organize their thoughts and pursue their passion. Minister Layesha has at least 15 years of experience encouraging and mentoring others who have published books, open christian-based dance studios, started dance ministries, and started their own conferences, workshops and more.

Please read a couple heartfelt testimonials below:

"Being under the leadership of Minister Layesha has helped me realize that this life I live is not to please man but to please God. That I have purpose given to me by the Father. And in everything I do, I am to bring glory to His name. Her leadership is not in vain. I am evidence of it." - Taylor Hatfield

"Minister Layesha Walton tapped into the greatness that God had already placed on the inside of me and pulled it out. Because of her program, I finally started to work on something I had been ignoring and running from for most of my life, using my voice. She literally pushed me out of fear and complacency into a place of obedience to God. She helped me face my insecurities. But, taught me more than anything to humbly walk in obedience to whatever God is telling me to do. I will forever be grateful to Minister Layesha, for how my life and mindset has changed. I am now willing to lift up my feet and walk towards what God is telling me to do. So if you're ready for that extra push to move forward in the things of God, then this is for you!" - Jessica Harris

Words from Minister Layesha Walton:

Do you need a Mentor?

Do you need encouragement from someone who has been where you are? I have struggled with fear, pride, inferiority, affirmation addiction, being a people pleaser, a performer on and off stage, and the challenge of raising a child with autism spectrum disorder, who is now very social, loves to play baseball and highly functioning. I wasn't always a minister of the gospel who happens to dance. It's been a blessing to be in ministry for 15 years, a wife of one, a mother of three, and a mentor to many. I want to share what God has taught me. I want to encourage you and give you some practical tools to help you navigate reaching a specified vision, dream or goal God's way.
